

A wellness device for enhancing our own protective forces and correcting the natural electromagnetic radiation in natural bio-systems

DeVita AP
Modell Mini

Instructions for use

Introduction

A unique device which has no analogues in the world. Each person needs to maintain a high rate of health in the modern world. The device is used to relieve the stressful burden caused by the presence of parasitic forms in the human body: viruses, bacteria, fungi, protozoa, helminths. And also the presence of endo- and exo- toxins that block the work of the main excretory systems, which is one of the main causes of reducing the state of health.

Method of work

Its action is based on the results of large-scale research by the scientist and engineer R. Rife and his supporters. Scientists have proved that every living form has its own electromagnetic radiation. Waves of a certain frequency, reproduced by the device, resonate with the own radiation of the microorganisms, enhancing their natural vibrations. Intensive fluctuations become disastrous for parasites. The complex AP Mini device has separate vibration frequencies for certain types of viruses, bacteria, helminths, protozoa and fungi, and, in addition, allows the deep purification of the body from toxins.

Features of the device

The device includes 14 basic complexes consisting of manual and automatic programs. Each user can create their own unique complexes (the whole device can hold up to 50) and has the ability to download new complexes and programs that will be created by the company's specialists.

Time of use

The DeVita AP Mini device should be used in the afternoon or at night, placing it under the pillow with the backside facing yourself.

To maintain a high wellness factor, to improve the state of health and for best adaptation, we recommend using the DeVita Energy Mini device in the morning and the DeVita Ritrn Mini device during the day. The method of using DeVita devices is described in the complexes.
